Curtain Time—8 p.m.—

R. U. R. to Open Season Thursday Night in Aud.

R.U.R. (Rossum's Universal Robots), a melodramatic fantasy, will open tomorrow night at the college auditorium as the MSC drama department opens its '63-'64 season.

Curtain Time is 8 p.m.

Set in the future on an island, the play describes the manufacture of robots by the R.U.R. Company. The company makes mechanical men and women to do the physical labor of the human inhabitants of the earth.

Harry Domin, general manager of R.U.R., brings Helen Glory, his fiancee, to the island to see the production operation. She takes pity on the robots and asks Dr. Gall, the head of the Physiological and Experimental Department, partially humanize them. Given the desires and feelings of humans, the robots revolt against their masters.

The play is directed by Dr. Ralph E. Fulson, chairman of the speech and drama department, with the technical direction under the supervision of Mr. Kerry Lafferty.

Food Committee News

The late risers on Saturday and Sunday mornings won't have to miss breakfast anymore. Donuts, rolls, coffee, and milk will be served in the Birch Room for one hour after the breakfast lines close.

The change, effected by the Student Food Committee, went into effect last weekend. Comments given to the Committee about cafeteria menus have been favorable, and chairman Bob Cotter asks that they keep coming in.

Negative Credits

With Thanksgiving in sight, Dr. Robert Foster, dean of administration, issued a reminder to MSC students that a penalty of one negative semester credit will be assessed for each day, or fraction thereof, of unexcused absence from class on the day preceding or following the vacation.

Dean Foster points out that it is best for late students to go to class and be counted as tardy rather than absent. Absences will be recorded on student's permanent record card.

Ray Christie Named Oct. Man of Month

Ray Christie has been named Blue Key Man of the month for October according to Blue Key president Richard Smith.

Ray Christie

Blue Key commended Ray for his leadership in making the 1963 Homecoming one of the best ever. Ray is a senior from New Hampton, Mo. He and Miss Jeri Irvin served as Homecoming co-chairmen.

Dr. John Harr, chairman of Homecoming, said, "I think anyone who knows Ray soon comes to know that job delegated to Ray will be carried out to the letter. I would be in enthusiastic concurrence with the Blue Key selection. In my judgment he is one of the finest co-chairmen I have worked with in Homecoming."

The Student Senate proposed seven amendments to the SGA Constitution at its meeting last Thursday, dealing with re-organization of the Senate.

President J. W. Jones approved all of the proposed amendments with the exception of a section of Amendment No. 1 which would have given the Senate power to provide for representatives from other organizations and residence halls in the future.

The basic change in the Senate membership, as proposed by the Senate, would be from the present class Senators to Senators representing residence halls and organizations. Four representatives from the men's halls and four from the women's together with a representative from each of the ten social organizations and the two service organizations would comprise the new Senate.

See page two for the complete text of the amendments.

Amendment No. 1 sets up the membership of the Senate as follows: Cooper Hall - 1, Douglas and Tower Halls - 1, Cook and Richardson Halls - 1, Wilson, Colbert, Hake, McCracken, Hawkins, and Cauffield Halls - 1, Roberta Hall - 1, Perrin Hall and the Town Girls' Association - 1, and Hudson Hall - 2.

One each from AKL, APO, ASA, Delta Zeta, Gamma Sigma, ISO, Phi Lamb, Phi Mu, Phi Sig, Tri Sigma, Sig Tau, and TKE. The service organizations were tentatively given their Senators at the Senate meeting two weeks ago which was not reported in the Missourian. The word "all" is changed to "each" in the proposed amendment, clarifying the meaning.

See page two for editorial comment on the amendments.

Amendment No. 2 clarifies the article by changing "shall" to "may" and converting the old three point grade system to the current four point system. It also states that senators representing residence halls cannot be or become members of social or service organizations already represented.

Amendment No. 3 deletes mention of class Senators and provides for the election of Senators during the fourth week of the fall semester. Nominations would be made during the third week. New Senators would be installed at the close of the Senate meeting during the fifth week.

Article VI, Section 4 dealing with election procedure for class Senators is deleted in Amendment No. 4. The term of office for the new Senators (Continued on Page Two)

FOR 17 YEARS OF SERVICE—Dr. John L. Harr was presented with a casting and trolling reel for his work as chairman of Northwest Missouri State College's Homecoming activities for the past 17 years at a dinner held in the Student Union Monday night. The dinner was attended by those who had helped organize this year's activities. Shown presenting the gifts are costudent chairmen Miss Jerilyn Irvin, left, and Raymond Christie.—Photo by Fredericks.

Proposed Amendments To the Constitution

(The following are the amendments which were passed by the Student Senate at its November 14, 1963 meeting and by the President of the College on November 18, 1963. They will be submitted to the Student Body at a time to be announced by the Senate.)

The present articles of the Constitution are printed in light-face type. The words to be deleted, are enclosed in parentheses and are in light-face type. The words which are to be added are printed in bold-face type.

AMENDMENT NO. 1—ARTICLE IV—SECTION 2:

Representatives from residence halls must not be affiliated with any social or service organization already represented in the Senate. All these elections for Senators shall be held (in the same place and on the same day, which shall be within the six school days immediately following the nominations of candidates for President and Vice-President) within the fourth week of the Fall Semester. Nominations for Senators shall be held by the third week of the Fall Semester. The President shall install newly-elected Senate members at the close of the Senate meeting that is held during the fifth week of each ensuing Fall Semester. Term of office for Senators: Senate representatives shall hold office for a term of one year and are subject to re-election.

AMENDMENT NO. 5—(Delete All Of) ARTICLE VI—SECTION 8:

ALL THAT JAZZ

We Move Forward

The Student Senate has proposed a plan for reorganizing the Senate to include a wider representation. The President of the College has approved the plan. It will be submitted to the Student Body for approval or rejection in the near future.

We think that the plan is essentially a good plan.

It takes into account the wide range of students and organizations which are affected by Senate action. Dorm units, which have been neglected in the past, are given Senators.

Student Senate members are Dennis Kaster, Jim Sanders, Rex Pettegrew, Jim Hawkins, Sue McNeill, Marge MacDonald, Bob Johnson, Harvey Hallum, Sandy Burger, Bob Crawford, Ellen Grube, Debbie Price, Judy Hullman, and Don Daniels.

The Senate has considered all of the factors about which they are aware, and have formulated a plan which takes into account all of these factors.

We think that this is the step in the right direction. While no system of government can be perfect and every system must be changed to meet changing situations, this proposal represents a basically sound system which should meet with approval. The Senate feels that it is the best solution to the problem. We concur with that judgment. Two or three minor changes have been suggested which will be gation as a citizen of the college and votes.

(Continued from Page One) would be one year, that is, serving from the fifth week of one fall semester to the fifth week of the next. The amendment provides for the re-election of Senators, a procedure which the Senate hoped to encourage.

Amendment No. 5 deletes all of Article VI, Section 8, dealing with the specific procedure for electing class Senators.

Amendments No. 6 and No. 7 delete references to class senators. No. 7 changes Counselor of Students to Dean of Students, which is the current title.

Soc. Sci. Club Hears About Racial Strife

A tape recording made by John Howard Griffin, author of Black Like Me, was heard by the Social Science Club Nov. 11. Griffin spoke about the problem of racism in the U.S. from the stand point of the Negro.

Griffin caused his skin to turn dark by undergoing a dangerous chemical process which destroyed the pectin in his skin and then exposed himself to ultra-violet rays. Having seen many humans gassed because of their race and having been temporarily blinded by a shell explosion, Griffin decided to undergo this process so that he could have a better understanding of the racial problem today.

According to Griffin, the physical brutality done to the Negro does not compare with the spiritual, moral and psychological brutality. Griffin told how one who met all the educational requirements for a job would be declined that job because of race.

Griffin closed by saying, "My life is a horror."

MSC Senior Is Part-Time Recruiter

A MSC senior has a unique part-time job. He is a Navy Recruiter for the Naval Air Station, Olathe, Kansas.

Dividing his time between college classes and prospecting the campus for recruits is Airmen Galen Buckey, St. Joseph.

When he is not pursuing his studies or his extra-curricular interests, he pursues likely candidates for the Naval Air Reserve program which has its midwest headquarters at Olathe 15 miles South of Maryville. His primary goal is to enroll applicants in the Naval Aviation Cadet program (Nav-cads) which requires two years of college, and in the Aviation Officers Candidate program for college graduates. After completing their college requirements, successful candidates for these programs go to Pensacola, Florida for Navy Flight Training.

Buckey also signs up recruits for the "Weekend Warriors" who drill two days a month with the squadrons of the Naval Air Reserve Reserve at Olathe. Time spent with these squadrons counts toward longevity pay increases during later active duty with the fleet or as a Navy Pilot.

He also looks for experienced women and girls—but in the interests of the Naval Reserve. Girls who have sufficient clerical or stenographic skills or other talents needed by the Naval Reserve may qualify for direct appointment to petty officer status.

Galen himself is a Naval Reserve enlistee. He plans to apply for the Aviation Officer Candidate program as soon as he graduates.

Some of the Pilots enlisted by Galew will remain in the service and fill command positions. Others will return to civilian life and become part of the Navy's trained Ready Reserve. Directing a steady stream of new blood into the Navy's "Annapolis of the Air" at Pensacola will be men like Galen Buckey. He is one of the men who help the Navy to "Keep 'em Flying."

Editorial Exchange— Perpetrating A 'Reputation'

The following article is reprinted from the EASTERN ECHO, student newspaper of Eastern Michigan University, Ypsilanti, Mich.

An apathetic and disinterested feeling prevails at Eastern, say students enrolled at the university; no one stays here on weekends; there is nothing to do.

A group gathered recently for a Brown Hall fire-side chat pointed out several items which appeared to be the root of this "problem."

First, this apathy is indoctrinated into Eastern students. Freshmen at the discussion actually admitted that they were "gung-ho-Eastern" when they came here, only to be confronted with a tide of blasé attitudes from sophisticated upperclassmen.

It has been pointed out before that there is no need to be ashamed of Eastern Michigan University. We have a good school. Let's be proud of it. We are one of the top five ranking schools for teacher education. We have a distinguished dramatics department. We have some superb instructors—tops in their fields. Why should we be ashamed or degrading to our university?

If this apathy is indoctrinated, what could be done to unite Eastern's campus? How do we get students to stay here on weekends to promote activities?

Obviously the campus must be united. We must break away from this feeling of small groups who care only for their own particular group. Social organizations—fraternities and sororities—all races, all religions, GDI's, every student must be made to feel that they are all important and that it is necessary for all students to back their school.

Instead of degrading Eastern at every available opportunity and perpetuating the "reputation" that Eastern is a suitcase college and a campus of apathetic students, why not do something.

We know the problem—apathy and ultimately lack of student unity. Why sit and discuss the feeling? We need action.

Council President Herron has pointed out that this goal is a reality for the near future and that it is not an impossible task. He has cited the example of Central Michigan University which was confronted with a problem similar to that of Eastern. That campus did something about it. They launched an all out campaign to erase this attitude and build a proud school spirit. The results are showing. Instead of 50-60 percent of the student population going home every weekend as did a few years ago, only 20-30 percent at the present time, go home every weekend.

Student Council, Men's Union and other campus organizations have definite goals and ideas to get Eastern on the beam. But they will fail unless we realize that it takes everyone backing the planned functions in order for them to succeed.

I hear you saying now that we can't fight an antagonistic administration. But is the administration against the student body or is that, too, a "reputation." From personal contacts with university administrators, students have cited occasions and persons who were more than willing to cooperate with campus groups in eliminating this apathy and uniting the student population. We know what the problem is. We have some indications from where the attitudes come. We see that there are definite goals planned and in action at the present time to promote and uplift EMU.

Why, then, should we sit and discuss the "hopeless situation" of Eastern's apathetic student body. Let's back the various campus groups in their effort to promote a school spirit at this university.

Survey Being Made On '59-'62 Freshmen

Mrs. Gloria West, secretary to Dean C. E. Koerble, is making a survey concerning 1959-62 MSC students who ranked in the upper 5% and lower 10% of their high school graduating class.

The 1959 MSC freshmen are now either seniors or graduates, and Mrs. West is evaluating how these superior and inferior high school students fared. She is also investigating if a person in the lower 10% of his class is able to succeed in college.

Although the survey isn't completed, data thus far has shown that some lower 10% students have graduated or are still enrolled at MSC while the greatest percentage of upper 5% students are still pursuing their education or else have graduated.

THE COLLEGE OATH

"We will never bring disgrace to this, our College, by any act of cowardice or dishonesty. We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the College. We will revere and obey the College laws and do our best to incite a like respect and reverence in others. We will transmit this College to those who come after us, greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Mail Bag

It is regrettable to have noticed on Wednesday, the 13th, that some juvenile of an extremely tender mental age felt the need for release so great as to chalk up our campus sidewalks with invective against another student. Far more regrettable is the student attitude which supports and condones this kind of behavior.

I do not know Lynn Lyons. For all I know, he may be an undesirable person socially. But if he is, it must be for reasons different than those heard expressed by other students. From the obvious attitude, Mr. Lyons' major crime against the student-body was his effort to uphold the moral order. This, it seems, is to be a "rat-fink." Mr. Lyons has been tried and convicted by the bar of majority opinion of the students. The tragedy is that Lyons did not "fink"; but would not "squeal" on those who framed him! He has been found lacking in that nebulous thing called "student loyalty." Not one word of invective has been heard against those who break the rules of campus society.

The appalling thing is to find young adults in the business of developing their minds and reason through higher education, and at the same time, by their actions, upholding immorality. When a student commits a wrong, and another student witnesses the wrong behavior, the wrong-doer is not thereby "caught." According to the "code", he can only be "caught by the authorities", not by a fellow-student. When a witness "rats" on a wrong-doer, the witness becomes the immoral person, and the wrong-doer becomes a martyr to "justice."

Still more appalling is the fear which dominates all those who will SAY what is right and what is wrong, but will do nothing to stand up for the right against the wrong. All on the basis of fear and rumor. "Let guys like Lyons get their heads busted; but NOT ME!" Two things are bad here: 1) there is no "proof" against the one accused of "finking"; and 2) what is to be feared if the majority uphold morality, if the majority stands up for the right, and if the majority "finks" on the wrong-doers? Anyone who refuses to publicly expose and oppose the breaking of established rules is, by such refusal, actually upholding immorality and condoning the breaking of rules.

The argument that everyone does it is unacceptable. Blaming the group for a refusal to back up what is right, or fearing the group's reaction of refusing to come to the aid of anyone who attempts to expose immoral, unethical cowardice and fear.

To be afraid is one thing. Fear is a natural human emotion. But to be afraid of doing what is morally and ethically right; to be afraid of supporting anyone else who tries to be moral and ethical—this is not only queasy cowardice; it is a denial of everything human.

No one should submit to any kind of tyranny: be it the tyranny of one, a few, or the tyranny of a majority. "If the majority issues wrong mandates instead of right . . . it practices a social tyranny more formidable than many kinds of political oppression, since . . . it leaves fewer means of escape . . . and enslaves the soul itself." (John Stuart Mill: ON LIBERTY).

Reasonable, college-educated persons must do what is morally, legally, and logically right. To abdicate this responsibility out of a fear of the group, or the "code", is a denial of reason, and a denial of the humanity which raises man above the animal; such abdication also denies the very community which gives us those freedoms so essential to the individual.

Am I my brother's keeper??? Morally and logically, YES!

MSC Freshman Coed Bags Her First Deer

Miss Janet Hutton, 18, Blythdale, did not miss early Saturday morning as the Northwest State College student shot her first deer while hunting on her parents' farm. While the MSC freshman did not need any assistance to bag the animal, she did have to get help from her father who was hunting in another part of the farm north of Blythdale to get the deer dressed. After being dressed the deer weighed 125 pounds.

The Inquiring Photographer

With current political thought turning to the question of presidential nominees for 1964, the Inquiring Photographer asked the following question: "Who do you think will be the Republican nominee in 1964, and why?"

John Bergstrom, sophomore, Newton, Ia., accounting

"At the present time I think it will be Goldwater. He is highly favored in many southern states, and he will definitely carry the predominantly Republican states."

Janet Sprake, freshman, Faucett, Mo., home economics

"Nixon would have the best chance because he has had the most political experience. He has had more public recognition than any of the other possible Republican nominees."

John Shipley, junior, Burlington Junction, Mo., biology

"Goldwater, because Rockefeller's divorce hurt his chances and because Nixon made a fool out of himself after the last election. The South is also an advantage for Goldwater."

Mrs. Gloria Dutman, freshman, St. Joseph, Mo., undecided

"Goldwater because the Republicans think that he has a better chance to win the Presidency. Also the South is backing Goldwater."

William Walker, junior, Wellman, Ia., physical education

"I believe that it will be Barry Goldwater because the civil rights program at present is in Goldwater's favor since he is a states-righter. Goldwater is a very effective speaker. Goldwater has had dealings with large sums of money. Another advantage for Goldwater is that he has thrown his hat into the ring early."

Bobbie McMinnemee, freshman, Denison, Ia., business

"I believe that it will be Rockefeller because Goldwater changes his mind on too many issues. I believe that people will overlook Rockefeller's divorce and look at the good things he has done. New York will also be an asset to Rockefeller."

Mr. Charles Johnson Honored by Students With Memorial Plaque

A plaque in memory of Mr. Charles L. Johnson has been presented to the college by his former students. The memorial was presented by Joe Neff, a senior from St. Joseph, representing the group of former students, to President J. W. Jones.

Mr. Johnson, at the time of his death in August 1963, was Chairman of the Department of Fine Arts and had been on the faculty in the department since 1953. In addition to this memorial a student loan fund has been established at the college which has received numerous gifts from former students and associates of Mr. Johnson.

The theatre is now featuring Lord of the Flies.

The L-Shaped Room, starring Leslie Caron, will open tonight at the Tivoli Theatre. Miss Caron was honored with the "Best Actress of the year" award by the British Film Academy for her performance as Jane Fosset, a young French girl who becomes pregnant after a loveless with an out-of-work actor.

In London Jane (Miss Caron) takes a L-shaped attic room in a dingy Notting Hill lodging house while deciding whether to abort or bear her child. Her fellow tenants include an unpublished writer (Tom Bell) and a Negro jazz trumpeter. Jane falls in love with the writer, but fails to tell him of her condition.

Bryan Forbes wrote for the screen and directed the movie. The L-Shaped Room is fashionably "frank" and ends not altogether conventionally.

Critics have different points of view on the movie. One stated that it has "pathos, charm, good characterization and a reasonably realistic view of things" while the other stated that it dabbled in "illegitimacy, homosexuality, lesbianism and abortion."

Jackie Vincent Crowned 'Queen of Counselors'

Miss Jackie Vincent was crowned "Queen of the Counselors" last week by the twenty-one girls in her section of Hudson Hall.

Upon entering the end lounge after dormitory devotions, Jackie was surprised to find a throne and her freshman girls waiting for her. Seating her on the throne, the girls presented a crown and scroll to her which declared her queen.

After the ceremony, the newly crowned queen and her "Subjects" had coffee and cake for refreshments.

Dick Buckridge Faces Job In MSC Cage Team Rebuilding

Northwest State College basketball mentor Dick Buckridge faces a momentous rebuilding task as he returns to his alma mater to lead the Bearcats in his rookie year as a college coach.

Only two seniors dot the near 30-man roster working out in preparation for the basketball opener against Wayne, Neb., State in Lamkin Gymnasium Nov. 30.

Heading the list are only three returning lettermen, and only two who saw the action last year. The third monogram winner, guard candidate Nick Neira, sat out most of the last season with a knee injury. So it will be a conglomeration of freshmen, transfers and returning B-team members who will make up the varsity roster. A Young, Inexperienced Group

"We will have a young, inexperienced club, having lost the first seven players from last year's squad," Coach Buckridge notes. He adds: "The teams in the MIAA are tough and as a result it will be difficult to get off to a winning start. We have only two seniors on our squad and the sophomore group is one of high potential and should, with playing time under their belts, provide good basketball for our fans."

"I have been encouraged by early season practice sessions in that the effort put out by the squad has been excellent. I am convinced that we have a group of boys who came to play."

Tallest man on the squad, which may seem short in comparison to recent MSC cage teams, is 6-7 junior center Larry Richardson. Richardson saw quite a bit of action subbing for Roger Voss last year and is a good rebounder and potentially good scorer. He is backed up by 6-6 Dave Remund, top scorer on the B team a year ago.

Starting forwards for the Bearcats will likely be Bill Yeager, 6-5, and Ed Maxwell, 6-4. Yeager is a transfer from Kansas State where he started on the frosh squad. He has demonstrated a variety of shots and keen eye from any angle on the court. Maxwell, one of the most rugged men on the squad, started at a guard post on the MSC football team. He averaged 30 points per game last year and was an All-Navy selection in the Armed forces.

Along with Neira, Bob Crawford, returning monogram winner, is a leading guard spot contender. Outstanding among the freshman crop is guard Larry Robinson, a 5-11 freshman dandy who followed Coach Buckridge to MSC from William Chrismann High in Independence. Robinson is good defensively and can handle the ball and drive with the best.

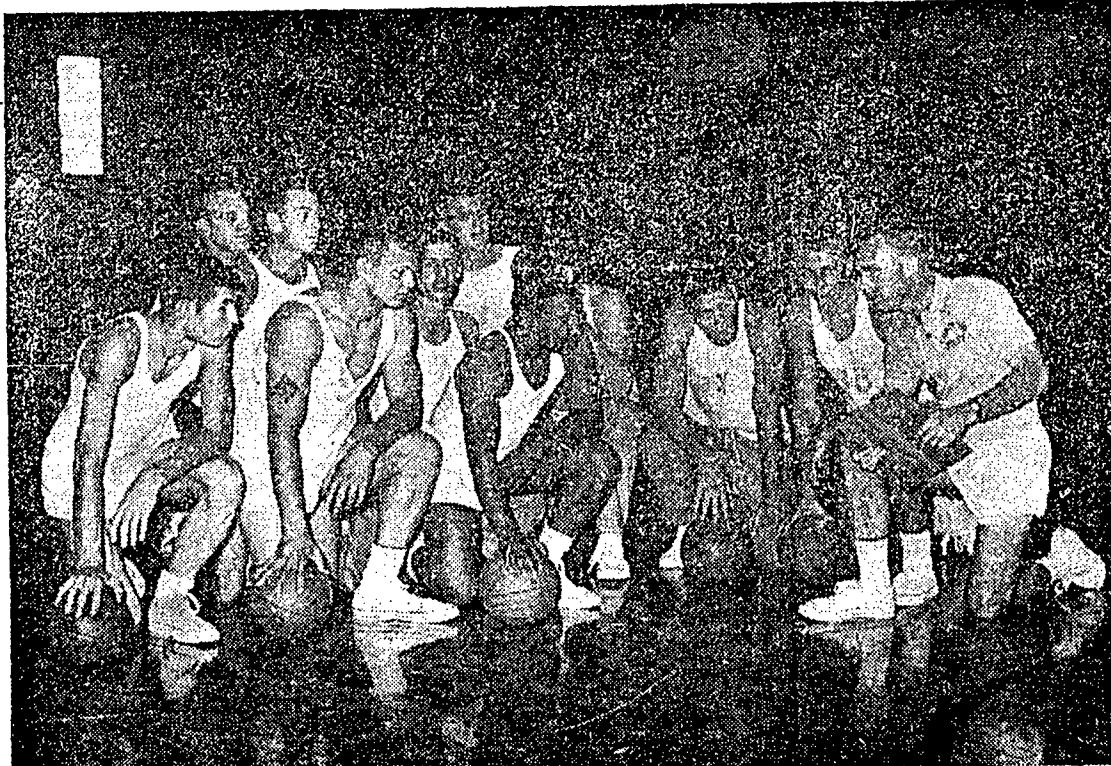

Some Transfer Prospects

Other top candidates for varsity spots are Dick Tauchen, 6-4, second best scorer on last year's B team; Bob Tonnes, 6-2, a sophomore from Maryville who has looked good in practice sessions; Dale Dawson, 6-4; Marvin Hopper, 6-4, a transfer from Peru, Neb., State, where he saw a lot of action last year. Football fullback Mike Peterson, a 6-1 former All-State choice; Jim Redd, 6-3½ former St. Louis CBC player who has not yet reported out but is being counted on — he also started at a tackle on the football team; 6-5 Tim Reynolds, a transfer from St. Josseyt's squad. Buckridge has also a 5-8 former High School All-American transfer from St. Benedict's.

A flock of other freshmen and newcomers will be pressing key men for spots on the varsity squad. Buckridge has also set up an 8-game junior varsity schedule.

Intramurals

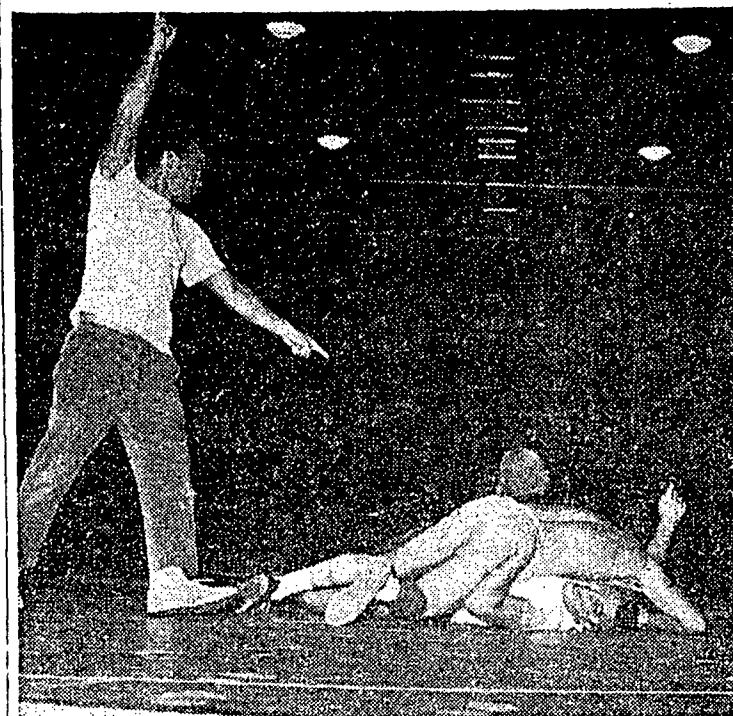

Intramural basketball will soon be starting. There will be a captain's meeting held in the Lamkin Gym classroom on Nov. 26 at 4:30 p.m. The games will begin Dec. 2. Entry blanks may be obtained at Dr. H. D. Peterson's office.

Intramural Action

ONE POINT—Vincent Vanderwide is awarded one point by referee Lonnie Wieland in a 177-pound match. John Thompson, bottom, strains to free himself from the disadvantage. Vanderwide won the match.

Two Records Set In Intramural Wrestling Slate

Dr. H. D. Peterson reports that a record number of spectators have attended the intramural wrestling tournament to date.

Also, a record number of grapplers registered and competed, according to Dr. Peterson.

The tournament was still in progress at press time. Results will be announced next week.
